PRACTICE FOR CORNHUSKERS

Booth's Team Frolies with Creighten Through Two Short Halves.

SCORE OF OVER ONE HUNDRED POINTS

Local Eleven Unable to Do Anything with Nebraskans, Who Try a Long List of New Plays In Game.

Booth's Cornhuskers, representing the University of Nebraska, smothered the Creighton university foot ball team at Vinton Street park Saturday afternoon by the score of 102 to 6. Booth had given it out that he did not intend to try to smother the wearers of the blue and white, and he did refrain from kicking the ball, which would have made scoring faster. Benedict was called on to kick but once, and then to show that he could boot it some if he wished he sent it whirling in a spiral for about sixty yards.

Rooters of the 'Varsity team came from Lincoln about 400 strong, and these, augmented by the Omaha rooters, occupied the south end of the bleachers, where they surrounded the Cadet band, which discoursed sweet music, and some that was not so sweet, and led the college songs, and songs which were not college songs. Creighton's blue and white was to be found at the north end of the bleachers and all over the field. One small boy was asked why he was wearing Nebraska colors, and he replied; 'I want to yell, I don't want to be quiet Nebraska won the toss and chose the north goal. Creighton kicked off for thirty yards and then by a series of fast rushes of from ten to twenty yards Nebraska carried the ball over in just two minutes of play. The game then developed into a regular routine. When Nebraska had the ball it could always gain its distance, and never once was the 'Varsity even forced to kick.

Creighton Gains Some. Creighton found a weak spot on the Nebraska line and five different times made first down by sending Troupe against Nebraska's left tackle. Several times Troupe would gain from two to four yards when hitting the line unassisted. He weighed about 130 pounds.

Rogers did some excellent work for Creighton while he lasted and backed up the line like a veteran. He was in every play, but was worn out after the first half, having been training but two weeks. Forty-one points were made in the first half and a blocked kick by Little, from which he secured the ball and made a forty-yard run for a touchdown, scored the first point in the second half in three minutes of play. Johnson began to shine at this stage of the game and several times was accorded perfect interference, behind which he scored touchdowns after runs varying from thirty to seventy-five yards. Nebraska was trying all the Booth's fakes and delayed passes and new plays and they all seemed to work well. Johnson was sent around the left end for a seventy-yard gain on the first play after Creighton Gets the Ball. After the touchdown and goal, which made Nebraska $6. Creighton kicked off and on the first scrimmage Nebraska fumbled, giving Creighton the ball on the thirty-five-yard line. This was the only chance that Creighton had to score all afternoon and Kennedy was called upon to boot the ball. The kick was blocked by Enslow, who scooped the ball and outran the field for a touchdown. Enslow made several phenomenal plays on the day and was quite the rage, sharing bonors with Johnson. He dodged through the mass like After the touchdown and goal, which Johnson. He dodged through the mass like Bender and ran like a deer, leading Booth to think that he had been neglecting a good thing in not using him more before Creighton was helpless when Nebraska had the ball and, although the players showed nerve and kept right after their larger adversaries, they were no match for the better trained and better coached Hastings kicked off to Doane, who started back with the bail, Maresh and Johnson taking from three to five yards of the distance between them and the goal line and scored in four minutes. Four times the local team crossed Hastings' goal during the first half and Day made three of the five kicks from field. Doane kicked to Hastings in the second half and took the field with line bucks, Pursons made several good gains and crossed Hastings' goal in less than five minutes. Then Doane put in the entire scrub team who, by hard playing, kept Hastings from scoring. Near the close of the half Hastings had the ball on the scrubs' two-yard line, where they fumbled and lost the ball. Lum, the scrubs' quarter of discount receiving. Half and Prevents More Scoring.

AMES, Ia., Oct. 28—(Special.)—All eyes are now riveted upon the coming game with Nebraska university at Lincoln, November 4. This will be the last game that Ames has scheduled outside the state this season, and when the Ames team lines up with the Cornhuskers it is expected a ferce battle will be on. There is no question but that Ames will find in Nebraska a heavy opponent and the outcome can only be a matter of conjecture. be a matter of conjecture. Minnesota succeeded in piling up a score of 42 to 0 against the farmer boys, but the team has a feeling that it will be enabled to hold the Nebraska team to a low score at least, and some even feel that there is a reasonable hope of sending a winning aggregation to Lincoln. Ames has won from the Cornhuskers in the past and the team does not go to Lincoln without hope of repeating the victory. The team, smarting under the defeat at the hands of the Minnesota Gophers two weeks ago, have determined to retrieve lost honors and will go into the game with a vim that seldom characterizes a college team. The Simpson game a week ago proved an easy victory for the Aggles, but served to point out to them that the interference was weak and needed a little bracing. Today was an open date, which afforded the team a rest, except for a practice game with the scrubs. All of the members are in excellent condition physically, and unless something unforeseen happens the coming week Ames will be able to send a bunch of men to Nebraska that will put up the best fight of the season so far. The team will be accompanied by 200 enthusiastic supporters from the college town, who will do their part to ald in keeping up the spirits of the warriors.

North Platte Wins in a Short Game.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—The foot ball game between Aurora and North Platte High school teams riayed here was discontinued shortly before the end of the first half with the score 12 to 9 in North Platte's favor. The Aurora team was unable to continue owing to the lack of substitutes to fill the places of two of their players who were injured. Two other players who accompanied them were not used in the game on account of a misunderstanding between the two teams as to the qualifications necessary for a strictly high school team. In the twenty minutes of actual play North Platte demonstrated superiority over her opponents, both on the offensive and defensive, forcing the ball steadily across Aurora's territory for two touchdowns. The Aurora defense was stubborn, but unable to stand against North Platte's consistent team work, whose remarkable system of advancing the ball, in which two of the home men used, puts less work on the back field and results in a great saving of individual players. North Platte Wins in a Short Game.

Harvard Wins from Brown. CAMBRIDGE. Mass., Oct. 28. — By straight plunging foot ball with but few variations and a sturdy defense. Harvard scored a touchdown in each half against Brown today, but the first try at the goal was missed, while in the second, the kick was spoiled by Dennie of Brown running out and catching the ball. Two runs by Schwartz, the Brown quarterback, for twenty yards each, were the longest of the game. The final score was Harvard, 19. Brown, 0. the game. The final score was Harvard, 19: Brown, 0.

Harvard's first score was made from a start on Brown's fifty-three yard line, ten yards of it being on a penalty against Brown. The start for the second score was made on Harvard's thirteen yard line, the ball being carried without loss for ninety-seven yards.

EVANSTON. Ill., Oct. 28.—Chicago overwhelmed Northwestern on Northwestern field this afternoon, scoring thirty-one points and guarding the marcon goal line so well that it never was in the slightest danger. Three touchdowns were made in the first half, on two of which Farry kicked goal. Two more touchdowns were added in the second half, while Eckersall got in his usual drop kick, an easy one from the fifteen-yard line. On a dry fast field the Chicago backs showed to much greater advantage than they did in the game with Wisconsin a week ago, and although Chicago used nothing but the simplest foot ball plays, not once trying a trick play during the game, they ploughed through the opposition's line for long gains. Outwelghed almost twenty pounds to a man, it was a hopeless flight for Northwestern from the Start and only twice in the game did they get the ball on downs, although Eckersall was forced to punt once or twice.

Contrary to expectations, Chicago did not use Eckersall on the offensive, except for punting.

The Needle-Work Test

How to Apply it in Clothes-Buying

HERE are lots of clothes shaped by the hot Flat-iron instead of by permanent hand-stitching. Your safety lies in applying the Needle-Test before buying. Here is the proposition:

. . . You want a coat in which the defects have been permanently removed by hand needle-work. It's pretty hard to tell by outside appearance; for Doctor Flat-iron has temporarily covered any defects in the coat. This is how you may know a "Sincerity Coat" in any clothier's store. Note how the man in the picture lays the coat on the table. Observe the straight line of Collar where it turns over; and along the outer edge.

The straight line is conclusive evidence that the Coat has been cut correctly and worked into its final shape by honest hand-stitching.

If you try this experiment on a "doctored" coat, you'll find a wavy outer edge of collar when held in this position. Good clothes can't be stamped out like metal. No two coats, even cut out of the same cloth and on the same pattern, are ever precisely alike. Defects of some sort will creep purchase. That label reads:

into almost every garment in the making. These defects can be "covered" from sight, at the cost of a few cents, by Flat-iron faking. And, that's how 80 per cent of them are covered. Or they can be permanently re-moved by 'Sincerity' stitching.

Sincere hand-needle-work is the only honest way to make clothes That's the kind of skilled workmanship that goes into Sincerity

Now, we don't claim to make the only good clothes in America, but we know we do make the most uniformly good Clothes-every garment of which. must hold its shape until worn out.

If you don't get clothes that stand the Needle-Test you will find Shoulders get lumpy and sloping. Collar "sets away" from the neck. Lapels bulge out at one side. Sleeves twist around or pinch under the arm.

Coat fronts wrinkle badly. All because the coat has been "doctored" by too much Flat Iron Dope instead of the right kind of needle-work.

When you buy your suit or over-coat, apply the needle-test. Don't be misled or turned from your purpose by excuses or Flat-Iron Dope; even though it looks good to you.

When you buy one of our "Sincerity" suits or overcoats, you are taking no chances. You get real tailoring—the smart-ness of outline (or design) and shape that is "worked in" by hand-needlecraft instead of hot Flat-Iron. If Shape-Insurance and Sincerity Tailoring are worth anything to you, then look for the label of the makers of Sincerity Clothes on your next
